School Description

The Crested Butte Community School (CBCS) is a K-12 college preparatory public school in Crested Butte, Colorado, with an enrollment of 735 students. CBCS is in its twenty-sixth year of operation and is a part of the Gunnison Watershed School District RE1J. CBCS is on a semester schedule and will continue a modified block for the fifth year. Eighty percent of seniors attend four year institutions after graduation.

CBCS continues to be acknowledged as an outstanding school. In the spring of 2021 US News and World Report named CBCS as a Best High School. Additionally, the Crested Butte Secondary School has received the College Success Award for the past four years. Finally, 78% of our teachers hold a graduate degree or are currently enrolled in a graduate degree program.

Community Description

Crested Butte lies at the north end of the Gunnison Valley in southwestern Colorado, 230 miles southwest of Denver and 30 miles north of Gunnison, the home of Western State Colorado University. The town of Mt. Crested Butte is three miles north of Crested Butte and is the site of the local ski area, Crested Butte Mountain Resort. Crested Butte and Mt. Crested Butte have a combined population of 2,328. Originally a mining town, the economy is now based on tourism and ranching.

Advanced Placement Courses

CBSS has an open enrollment policy for AP courses, and the AP exam is required for all students enrolled in AP courses. In 2022, CBCS students took a total of 142 exams. For exams taken during the spring of 2022, seventy-five percent of student scores were a three or above, and forty-one percent of scores were a four or above. While every AP course is not offered every year, the following advanced placement courses are often offered for students:
